PREFACE.

Previous to the year 1873, the Triennial Catalogue which had been issued by the University of Rochester, contained hardly anything more than a list of each class printed in Latin. The edition of 1873 was printed in English, and gave certain information of general interest with reference to each of the graduates. This was followed by the General Catalogue of 1879, carefully prepared under the able supervision of Prof. W. C. Morey, '68. No General Catalogue has since been published; but in 1887 an "Alumni Directory" was issued, carefully compiled by Assistant Librarian H. K. Phinney, '77. Since its issue many changes have taken place and a new and revised list of the Alumni has been greatly needed. To meet the general desire for a new edition, this Directory of the Officers and Alumni is issued under the direction of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees. It is not intended, however, to supersede, but only to anticipate a new General Catalogue. The impossibility of making a perfectly correct list of the graduates containing all the requisite information is readily apparent in view of the absence of complete records, and the difficulty of reaching all the Alumni. Proof sheets of class lists have been sent to at least two members of each class for revision. The response has been quite general; and although there has been considerable correspondence, and great care has been taken to render the present list accurate and complete, it cannot be expected that it is entirely free from errors. The attention of the Alumni is especially urged to a careful perusal, to the end that proper corrections may be made, and mistakes be eliminated in subsequent editions. We repeat the suggestion made in the Directory of 1887 that "it is greatly to be desired that some member of each class should act as a permanent class secretary with whom all the other members should keep in communication, and he himself be in correspondence with the University."

This Directory contains the names of those persons only who have received degrees from this University, or have been officially connected with its Board of Trustees or Faculty. If those also were recorded who have at different times been students in the various classes, the number would be more than double.

The list of Honorary degrees conferred by the University is complete and compiled from the official records. It should be understood, however, that the comparatively large number of honorary graduates in the early years of the University is due to the fact, that the degree of A. M. was conferred upon many who had already taken a course of study in Madison University, and in these cases the degree is more strictly a second degree "in course" than an "Honorary one." Special attention is called to the new statement concerning certain Degrees, appearing at page 51 of this Directory.

The historical and chronological tables have been prepared from official records. The list of officers, orators, poets and committees, has been made after a careful examination of the records of Alumni meetings. They are published with this Directory as of general interest to the Alumni, evidenced by various inquiries made from time to time concerning the subjects. The Directory in this form it is thought will provide a source of convenient reference for the Alumni.

Every Alumnus herein mentioned must be understood to have received at graduation the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, except when the Degree of Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Philosophy is specially designated; the letters "B. S." and "Ph. B." have been respectively used for such designation. The asterisk (*) where it occurs, indicates the decease of the person opposite whose name it is placed.

The compiler entertains the hope that the present Directory may stimulate the Alumni to such an interest in the completion and preservation of records concerning the Alumni, that such information will be furnished as will make the next edition far better than the present one. The compiler can only say with reference to his work, that he has simply done the best he could, with the limited time and the sources of information at his disposal. He desires to acknowledge with great appreciation, the cordial co-operation and valuable assistance rendered by Mr. E. O. Sage, '53; Mr. Adelbert Cronise, '77; Mr. H. K. Phinney, '77, and Mr. F. A. Macomber, '89.

Copies of the present Directory will be sent to all the living Alumni at the addresses appearing herein. Every graduate is expected to advise the "Assistant Librarian, Sibley Hall, Rochester, N. Y.," of any change in his address, and also of any errors in the present edition, together with such information or suggestions as may tend to improve future editions.

CHARLES M. WILLIAMS.

ORGANIZATION OF THE UNIVERSITY.

In 1847 many friends of Christian education connected with the Baptist denomination expressed a conviction that a university should be established by that body in the City of Rochester, the most promising center in an extensive area practically without an institution of higher learning. In October of the same year, at a meeting of citizens of Rochester, held in the City Hall, the idea of establishing a university in Rochester was emphatically endorsed, and pecuniary assistance was freely pledged to it by leading men of various denominations. A provisional charter was granted by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, January 31, 1850; and the University was opened to students in the autumn of that year. The conditions having been complied with, the Regents issued the charter under which the University is at present organized, February 14, 1851. The charter is in all respects similar to the old charter of Columbia College, in the City of New York, and invests the corporation "with all the privileges and powers conceded to any college in this State, pursuant to the provisions of the sixth section of the statute entitled, 'An Act relative to the University,' passed April 5, 1813."

Twenty of the twenty-four members constituting the Board of Trustees named in the charter, were of the religious body under whose auspices the University was founded, and a preponderance has always been maintained, now fixed at two-thirds, although various other denominations have been and are represented in the Board of Trustees and the Faculty of Instruction. Among its most liberal supporters have been representatives of other religious bodies, and in its lecture rooms students of every faith have always found a perfect equality.

The immediate superintendence of the University is committed to nine members of the corporation, known as the Executive Committee. This body meets monthly, is mainly composed of trustees resident in Rochester, and reports its transactions annually to the Board of Trustees. "It is the duty of the Executive Committee to satisfy themselves that the laws of the corporation are carried into effect by the officers, and obeyed by the students of the University."

The President of the Board of Trustees is the executive officer of that Board and of the Executive Committee, having "general charge of the financial affairs of the institution."

The President of the University is the executive officer of the Board of Trustees and of the Executive Committee in "the internal administration of the University."

PROVISIONS FOR GRADUATE WORK.

The Board of Trustees, upon the recommendation of the President and Faculty, has decided to discontinue the conferring of the second degree in course and has requested the President to recommend to the Board such conditions of conferring this degree as will in his judgment give to it the honorable character to which it is entitled. In compliance with this request a plan of study is now in preparation leading to the Master's degree in Arts and in Science, and also to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, which in conformity with the best usage the University has ceased to confer as an honorary degree.

The plan in preparation will require for the Master's degree in Arts or in Science two years of study beyond what is required for the Bachelor's degree, and for the degree of Ph. D., three years, to be pursued partly in residence at this or some other accredited institution, including work which will be recognized as suitable by the leading universities, and terminating in a thorough examination and the presentation of a thesis or equivalent original work.

The detailed specifications of the work leading to the advanced degrees will be published in the next annual catalogue, or in a separate pamphlet, and will be ready for distribution in the course of the next term.

* Oration delivered in 1894 by Truman J. Backus, LL. D., '64.

MEMORANDA.

The oration and poem and annual proceedings of the Alumni were published in several years in pamphlet form. The publications can be found in the University Library.

The Commencement graduating exercises were held in the Corinthian Hall (now Academy of Music) until 1879; then in the First Baptist Church until 1889; they have been held in the Lyceum since that time.

When the exercises were held in Corinthian Hall, there was a procession of the Alumni, Students, Faculty, Trustees and City and County Officials; the procession formed on the church lot where the auditorium of the Second Baptist Church now stands. The procession headed by the Chief of Police of the city and a band, marched through Main street to Reynolds Arcade, and through the Arcade to Corinthian Hall, President Anderson being attired in cap and gown. At the entrance to the Hall the undergraduates cheered the President, Faculty, Officers, Alumni and the graduating class, as they successively passed into the Hall.

The Anderson Alumni Fund is $27,674.76. The committee, M. H. Briggs, '71; E. O. Sage, '53; W. S. Hubbell, '71, made their final report June 16, 1890.

On July 11, 1854, the Alumni "Resolved, that all who receive the degree of A. M. from the University be honorary members of the Society of Alumni."

The records show that the following were elected honorary members of the Society of Alumni: Rezin A. Wight, of N. Y. City, June, 1876, George H. Raymond, '74, June 26, 1877, President David J. Hill, LL. D., June, 1891.

Prof. Spencer H. Freeman, '75, son of Rev. A. L. Freeman, '51, was the first son of an Alumnus to graduate from the University, and appropriate resolutions were passed by the Alumni, June 29, 1875.

The Associated Alumni were Incorporated under the Laws of N. Y. State, June 8, 1894. The managers for the first year named in the certificate of incorporation were: John P. Munn, M. D., '70; Charles H. Wiltsie, '80; John Fahy, '66; Luther M. Hair, '77; Charles W. Gorton, '76; Charles F. Pond, '60; Francis S. Macomber, '89; Kendrick P. Shedd, '89; Adelbert Cronise, '77.

First Reunion Concert at Chamber of Commerce rooms, June 14, 1892.

The Marble Tablet erected by the Alumni in the Chapel of Anderson Hall, to perpetuate the memory of the Alumni who died in the War of the Rebellion, contains the following inscription :
